ADVISORY – WEDNESDAY – Wolf Administration to Discuss Programs and Resources Available to Pennsylvania Families with Children During COVID-19 Crisis and 2020-21 Back-to-School Season

Wolf Administration officials with the departments of Human Services, Health, and Education will hold a press event to update Pennsylvania families on child-care options, remind parents and guardians of healthy habits to keep children and families safe, and provide helpful information about programs and resources that are available to families struggling economically as a result of the COVID-19 crisis.

WHAT: Department of Human Services Secretary Teresa Miller, Department of Health Secretary Dr. Rachel Levine, and Department of Education Secretary Pedro Rivera will discuss issues of concern and available resources to Pennsylvania families with children.

WHEN: Wednesday, August 26; 2 p.m.

WHERE: PEMA, 1310 Elmerton Avenue, Harrisburg, PA 17110; Live Stream

DETAILS FOR PRESS: To ensure safe social-distancing measures can be implemented, reporters must RSVP to attend this event in person. Please RSVP to Brandon Cwalina at bcwalina@pa.gov if you would like to attend the event in person.
