CORRECTION: PennDOT Extends Expiration Dates on Commercial Driver Licenses, Commercial Learner's Permits and Hazardous Materials Endorsements (HME)

The previous version of this release had an incorrect date for the extension on expiration dates for commercial driver licenses and permits. Please note that the correct date is November 29, 2020.

Harrisburg, PA – The Pennsylvania Department of Transportation (PennDOT) announced today that expiration dates for commercial driver licenses and commercial learner's permits will be extended for Pennsylvania residents in response to statewide COVID-19 mitigation efforts.

Effective September 30, the following products' expiration dates will be extended:

- The expiration date for a commercial learner's permit scheduled to expire from March 16, 2020, through November 29, 2020, is extended through November 29, 2020.
- The expiration date for commercial driver licenses scheduled to expire from March 16, 2020, through November 29, 2020, is extended through November 29, 2020.
- The expiration date of a Hazardous Materials Endorsement (HME) for an individual who is a Pennsylvania-licensed commercial driver's license holder and who held a valid, unexpired HME with a determination of no security threat on or after March 6, 2020, is extended until October 29, 2020.

Expiration extension deadlines on non-commercial driver license, photo identification cards, learner's permits and camera cards expired on August 31.
